ZKS: Pandemics

In light of the current situation, the Journal of Canadian Studies (ZKS) announces a focus section for our volume 2022, centering on how pandemics and their effect are addressed historically, culturally, politically, and linguistically in the Canadian context. We welcome article submissions (40-50.000 characters) or contributions to the forum (30.000 characters) from all disciplines in French, English, or German by July 15, 2021. All submissions will be peer-reviewed.

The editors will be happy to answer any questions regarding the process or potential topics of interest; for articles, please write to Katja Sarkowsky (katja.sarkowsky@philhist.uni-augsburg.de), for forum contributions to Martin Thunert (mthunert@hca.uni-heidelberg.de)

In addition to contributions to the focus section on pandemics, ZKS continues to accept submission in any other field of Canadian Studies for its 2022 volume.
